

VC helps out St Mary's hospital

STUDENTS from Varsity College Durban North recently visited St Mary's Hospital in Mariannhill to deliver a wide variety of necessary items for the children at the hospital.

Toothbrush and toothpaste packs, yogurt, apples and naartjies were distributed to the older children while nappies, wet wipes, bibs and baby cream were donated to the babies ward.

Each year, psychology lecturer, Leigh Evelyn, and her students raise money to buy items that are then donated to the hospital during the class visit.

"Not only does the outing allow the students to engage with the children at the hospital but it ties in with their academic curriculum," said student relations coordinator at Varsity College Durban North, Lauren Griffon.

Varsity College student Vuyakazi Futshane with Londiwe Zondi a current occupant in the St Mary's children's ward.

