

Four-hour challenge for cyclists

THE Varsity College MTB Corporate Challenge takes place next Saturday as part of the exciting Willows Challenge.

Open to all cyclists, the Corporate Challenge is set to pit mountain bike enthusiasts against their colleagues in a relay race over four hours. Relay teams may comprise of two or three cyclists.

"We've decided to introduce the MTB event onto the programme as it offers social cyclists the opportunity to get involved in a mountain bike race with their colleagues, partners or friends." said race organiser Mike Zoetmulder. "A moderate to easy 5km course has been set and the teams will cycle as many laps as possible within the allocated four hours, with just one team member on the course at any one stage."

Former world pole vault champion Okkert Brits will take part in the event as part of the Profiles Health Club team, while Varsity College students are set to take a break from studies to put together several teams in the hope of keeping the trophy on campus.

Entry is R200 a team. The team which completes the most laps in the four hours and has the fastest last lap will win R1 000 and a floating trophy.
