

IIE Bachelor of Social Science

School of Humanities and Social Sciences

The field of Social Science relates to the understanding of people, society and culture. This field of study enables people to make decisions as informed citizens of a culturally diverse inter-connected world. Social sciences are a group of disciplines that focus on how the mind works, how people behave in society, and the impact their behaviour has on one another, other societies and the environment.

Employers seek flexible, well-informed graduates who are sophisticated communicators and analytical thinkers. The Bachelor of Social Science offered at IIE VC and IIEMSA is designed to enable students to develop such qualities. The world of work is changing rapidly, and students need to take a global outlook and be adaptable in order to succeed.

This programme provides a rich basis of skills and knowledge for graduates to apply directly within the workplace, or to build on through further studies in Honours or a postgraduate programme.

The IIE Bachelor of Social Science degree provides students with a choice of ONE of the following core discipline combinations:

- International Studies and Political Studies, or
- Geography & Environmental Science and Development Studies, or
- Psychology and Criminology & Criminal Justice, or
- Criminology & Criminal Justice and Sociology, or
- Psychology and Sociology

Timetables

This qualification is aimed at students who wish to complete full-time face-to-face studies for the duration of their qualification. This means that students are expected to be available throughout the day for class in the academic year depending on how the timetable is structured. Students may also be required to write assessments or submit coursework or assignments outside of normal class time. Students who would like to pursue part time employment opportunities outside of the academic programme must prioritise their studies and avoid committing to work schedules until after they have received their timetables and academic calendar from the institution. Students must also note that timetables remain subject to change throughout the academic year.
